

Anglistentag 2016

Jana Gohrisch und Barbara Schmidt-Haberkamp

Cosmopolitan/Global/Planetary Fictions: The Uses and Abuses of Comparative Approaches

Beiträger und Reihenfolge der Vorträge

Christian Moser (Bonn)

The Figure of the Globe in (Post-)Enlightenment Anthropological Discourse: A Case Study of the Global Imaginary

Helge Nowak (LMU München)

Around the World in 18 Pages; or, Fresh Ground for Comparison of Literature in a Global Context

Roman Bartosch (Köln)

Anthropocene F(r)ictions: World Literatures and Transcultural Ecology in an Age of Climate Change

Pavan Malreddy (Frankfurt a.M.) und Ana Sobral (Zürich)

World Literature and Violence: Perspectives from the Global South

Annika McPherson (Augsburg)

Transnational Lives and 'Post-National' Aesthetics: 'Afropolitanism' and Globality in West African Literary Contexts

Jan Alber (Aarhus)

Comparison, Inclusiveness, and Non-Hierarchical Incommensurability: Narrative Strategies in New Aboriginal Life Stories

Prof. Dr. Jana Gohrisch, Englisch Seminar, Leibniz Universität Hannover

» jana.gohrisch@engsem.uni-hannover.de

Prof. Dr. Barbara Schmidt-Haberkamp, Institut für Anglistik, Amerikanistik und Keltologie, Rheinische Friedrich-Wilhelms-Universität Bonn

» schmidt-haberkamp@uni-bonn.de